Subject: microsoft is not a monopoly

there should be no settlement. MSFT is NOT a monopoly. did we all forget what a monopoly is? they do not have exclusive control over the computer market, the OS market or the software market. people have choices, and as long as they have choices this doesn't constitute as a monopoly. hmm what a monopoly? how about QWEST? nowadays a phone is a necessity and not a luxury, yet we don't have a choice who our local carrier is. why is that? as long as there is competition, how does a monopoly exist? Microsoft competes with Apple and the many other Flavors of UNIX. as long as competition exists, how can a monopoly?
